

Accounting for Importers & Wholesalers

SBG
accountants & business advisors

"We are recognised by our clients and peers as a business start-up specialist and can offer you advice on a range of issues including tax registrations, insurances, HR matters, payroll and the preparation of a business plan. We believe you need to start with 'the end in mind' so when looking at the most appropriate business structure we factor in tax considerations, asset protection and future discount capital gains tax concessions."

Paul Dobson - Director

Having an accountant who understands your importing or wholesaling business can give you a valuable edge. You face some fairly unique issues including the volatility of the Australian dollar and we can help you navigate your way when dealing with banking institutions, freight forwarding companies, organising overseas payments and balancing cash flow to meet ongoing overheads. Not only that, we can advise you in relation to the complex tax and GST issues associated with importing and wholesaling giftware, furniture, baby products, household items, machinery and equipment.

We have guided a number of importers and wholesalers through the various stages of their business life cycle, from start up to sale. If you import or wholesale we can provide you with a range of services to support and grow your business. If you import for the purpose of manufacture we can also assist you with issues including pricing, break even analysis and management accounting services. Comparing your business data against industry benchmarks will let to assess what is working in your business and what needs working on.
