“Running a café, coffee shop or sandwich bar is hard work. Apart from the usual small business compliance issues of GST, BAS, PAYG and superannuation you have to contend with food handling regulations, early starts and council permits. The hospitality industry is characterised by irregular trading hours, erratic and seasonal trade and stiff competition. The industry is littered with casual employees who bring other issues with them and to top it off, you are on your feet all day.”

Paul Dobson - Director

Over the years, our team of accountants and business advisors at Kelly+Partners Melbourne/SBG Accountants have mentored owners of numerous cafés, coffee shops and sandwich bars through the various stages of their business life cycle, from start up right through to sale. You'll find we offer hospitality clients a full 'menu' of accounting, tax and business development services and we now boast a significant base of clients who run cafes, coffee shops, sandwich bars and take away food outlets. Our experience and knowledge with clients in hospitality has seen the industry become a niche within our accounting practice.

We'll advise you on the most appropriate tax structure for your business taking into account income tax considerations, asset protection and future discount capital gains tax concessions. Next, we will help you select the most appropriate software for your business and factor in your business needs and level of accounting skill. Far too many people who open a cafe make the mistake of buying sophisticated 'double entry' accounting programs (like MYOB and QuickBooks) that are beyond their needs and level of accounting skill. Our brief includes helping you save money and it starts with the right tax structure and accounting software.

Having said that, we do so much more than just tax. The tax return is the start of the client process, not the end and as 'business builders' we provide strategies and solutions to grow your business and its future value.
